T. H. S. Girls' Sport Nite

Although our health program is largely a physical one, it goes beyond the mere development of the body. There are exercises that are designed to promote health; in addition, there are dances and rhythmic to develop poise and grace. But above all, there is an enjoyable program of competitive sports sponsored chiefly to imbue the pupil with a love of games and the spirit of sportsmanship. Girls' Sport Nite is not merely a spectacular show; it is the culmination of the regular indoor physical education program, presenting in review every activity participated in during the season.

Prelude---Non Competitive.....Trenton Saga
Chairman---Mary Providence

Breaking through the Seal of the City, the Spirit of Trenton reviews her long and colorful history.

The beat of the tom-tom sets the mood for the Trenton of earliest times. The revolving wheel of the Grist Mill indicates industry and progress, while the Battle of Trenton recalls the Revolutionary War. The buzz and hum of the typewriters, show present-day Trenton to be the scene of great political activity and the capitol of the State of New Jersey.

Well satisfied with the past and the present, she looks forward to the future glory of Trenton, as symbolized by the bridge bearing the legend:

With the blare of the trumpets and the ballyhoo of the barker, the fair gets under way. Among the first to arrive are Mr. and Mrs. Trenton and their daughter. Led by the barker, they survey the wonderful sights.

Each member of the family goes to see the thing that interests him or her the most. While mother is buying daughter a balloon, "pop" gets lost at the sideshows. Then he goes to the shooting gallery where he wins a prize that makes daughter very happy. Mother is attracted by the Needlework display and is overjoyed to learn that her contribution has won a blue ribbon. Unwatched, daughter wanders off to the Merry-Go-Round where she has a wonderful time playing with the "real" horses.

After the family has seen and done everything at the fair, they gather for one last look around before they go home. All close the fair in a glorious finale!
